PARTY LIKE A ROCK STAR AT THE PEROT MUSEUM’S ANNUAL FUNDRAISING GALA – NIGHT AT THE MUSEUM: ROCK THE PEROT – SATURDAY, NOV. 10

A rockin’ VIP backstage pre-party, prehistoric giants, Earth’s natural rock stars (gems!), food with a beat, late-night iridescent dancing, fiber-optic hair and more converge for a rock-the-senses evening benefiting STEM education and accessibility for all North Texans

DALLAS (Oct. 29, 2018) – We will, we will rock you. Earth’s most glitzy gems, edible art tables, rock star impersonators and an iridescent after-party. It’s all part of the package as the Perot Museum of Nature and Science hosts its annual fundraising gala, Night at the Museum: Rock the Perot, on Saturday, Nov. 10, from 7 p.m.-midnight. All five levels of the Museum will beam with enticing experiences that are sure to rock the senses, from magnificent minerals, to neon-lit prehistoric giants, live music, artistically crafted food (some with rhythm!) from Wolfgang Puck Catering and more.

“Our biggest fundraising event, Night at the Museum directly supports our mission to inspire minds through nature and science,” said Dr. Linda Silver, the Eugene McDermott Chief Executive Officer of the Perot Museum. “These funds allow us to develop rich and relevant exhibit content, facilitate groundbreaking research and create engaging programming and innovative experiences for schoolchildren and guests of all ages within and beyond the walls of the Museum. Thanks to our incredible supporters, we are leading the charge for STEM education and exploration in North Texas.”

Event co-chairs are Heather and Chris Gilker and Linda and Ken Wimberly and honorary chairs are Fallon and Robie Vaughn

Sponsors at the Geode level ($12,500 and above) are invited to attend the VIP backstage rock star pre-party at 6 p.m., sponsored by American Airlines, followed by the main party at 7 p.m. Dress is cocktail attire, and complimentary valet parking will be provided. Live music by the high-energy Georgia Bridgewater Orchestra will beckon bodies to move and groove at the iridescent after-party, which gets underway from 9 p.m.-midnight.

Throughout the evening, all five levels of the Museum will bustle with experiences and takeaways including glam-rock makeup, crystal tattoos, body-morphing mirrors, a giant kaleidoscope, color chemistry and more. On Level 2, the all-new Being Human Hall will “rock your body” with play-and-party stations involving muscle dissection, Makey Makey jam sessions, and blending mirrors. From ginormous geodes to sparkly crystals, the mysteries and science behind Earth’s natural rock stars will be explored in the Lyda Hill Gems and Minerals Hall on Level 3. And on Level 4, towering dinosaurs will “rock your world” alongside some new Museum favorites such as the fossil-filled Paleo Lab, colorfully lit T. rexcalator and “Dancing Dinos” interactive wall.

On the Lower Level, guests will encounter prehistoric rock stars from below the equator at Ultimate Dinosaurs, the traveling exhibition that brings to life rarely seen, exotic species from the southern hemisphere – including the Giganotosaurus (South America’s “king of the jungle” predator) and Argentinosaurus (the world’s heaviest dinosaur). Augmented reality, towering skeletal casts, touchable fossils and cutting-edge technology will transport gala goers to prehistoric times. Fun-filled guided tours (dubbed Ultimate Dinosaurs “Tourasours”) will be offered throughout the evening.
Wolfgang Puck Catering provides rock-the-palate culinary experience

Even taste buds will get the rock-star treatment as Wolfgang Puck Catering unearths the art and anatomy of food. Highlights will include charcoal beef short rib with Okinawa potatoes and aromatic top vegetables; rock lobster with sauce americaine, saffron croquette and paysanne winter roots; house smoked Coho salmon macaron with fine herb smear and chive blossoms; edible “Rock 'n' Geode”; and Pop Rocks® yuzu ice cream pops, to name a few.

Edible art tables will feature glasses pre-filled with dehydrated citrus, fennel tuile and petite winter greens. Guests will then top their glass with “table art” including passion fruit gelee, pressed cactus pear, nitrogen goat curd, clementine and currant mostarda with winter blooms.

Sustenance samplers will also “see” the sound waves of musical rhythms moving through their food. Food landscapes will showcase local grapefruit and lychee granite with baked meringue snow, and a selection of rocky soil wines, craft cocktails and other lavish libations will be on tap.

During the iridescent after-party, guests can don fiber optic hair while munching on late-night snacks such as buffalo cauliflower with buttermilk ranch, chicken tikka poutine bowls and miso katsu wagyu dogs.
